1969-1970

A year of change. A year of excitement. A year of memories that closed the curtain of the turbulent 60's. A year of hope that set the stage for the 70's. A year when all 1,598 of Roosevelts' Riders worked together for a favorable blend of tradition-and progress. It was a year when spirits rose to meet the challenge of a clean slate, a whole new decade. It was a year to challenge, a year to learn, a year to grow. It was the year when the American flag was planted proudly on the moon. It was the year when Roosevelt dropped a traditional dress code. It was, at once in Roosevelt's miniature world, as in Dicken's famous cities, the worst of times and the best of times. It was a year to remember.

Roosevelt's 1598 students fill the halls en route to classes.

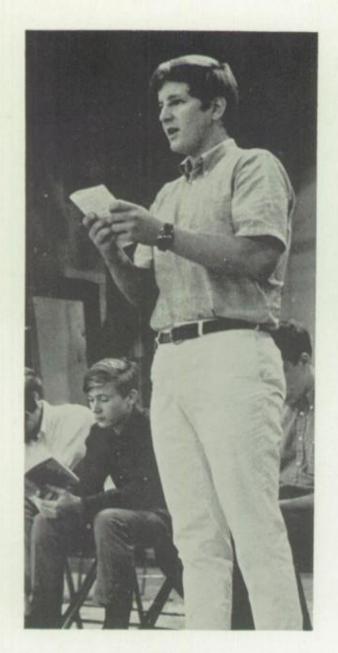

Girls develop domestic skill as they watch Mrs. Ruth Baumgartner demonstrate pattern cutting.

Busy principal Bruce Gardner, backed by spirit of the Mighty Rider himself, takes time out for a student interview.

Discovering that the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak, students recess to fortify themselves for future knowledge.

Sophomore Jeff Sternberg competes for a part in his first Roosevelt production, The Skin of our Teeth.

Junior Nancy Anderson and sophomores Carol Schropp and Dee Ann Rhodes ease frayed nerves in a moment of relaxation before their entrance in the Sharks pageant.

Roosevelt offers a variety of outlets for individual expression for each student, allowing all in the large enrollment a chance for creativity. The students eagerly respond, discovering their talets through choosing their favorite activities. Realizing their potential puts the students in gear for the years ahead, while their activities remain pleasant reminders of high school days. Roosevelt benefits also—from the building of a tradition of excellence.

A group of spirited juniors take the lead through downtown Des Moines prior to the victorious Homecoming game.

Senior Sally Holmes chats with a well-wisher in the swimming locker room as senior Marsha Porter prepares for her solo swim.

Roosevelt keeps pace with progress

This year, more than ever, Roosevelt has kept pace with progress. The traditional dress code was abolished, and for the first time, girls wore slacks to school. Roosevelt was tolerant of the attitudes and opinions expressed on war moratorium days. Students were given new freedom in determining school policy. All this accomplished a worthwhile result: allowing the students to develop their own ideas and personalities.

While the personalities of the students differ as greatly as the range of activities the school offers, the student body is united by a common goal: serving TRHS.

Some students choose to serve through support of athletic activities. Some demonstrate their eagerness to help in less obvious ways—honoring the school through community service, Roosevelt clubs, or academic or personal recognition. All reflect that intangible spirit of Roosevelt.

While the students grow by learning, adjusting and making friends, Roosevelt gains immeasureably with each graduate. Every student leaves some of himself behind.

Mike Cornelison and movie star Dick Van Dyke discuss the forthcoming movie, "Cold Turkey" at a meeting of the Thespians.

The faces of the Pep Club's blue cadets reflect anxiety and mixed emotions as the Riders edge ahead of East in the Lori Webber beautifies the school grounds on Cleanup Day as Nile Tannatt looks on.

When the school year 1970 comes to an end, the graduates and underclassmen alike will have their share of high school memories. The sophomore will remember his first year as a chaotic, whirlwind introduction to Roosevelt, the school he'd heard so much about. June leaves him awaiting his junior year—a year of promise.

Bob Anderson cheers the Riders on to victory.

The junior, with two years of high school behind him and one left, anticipates his year as a "superior senior," for this is the year which he will be able to enjoy the greatest degree of high school leadership. When a year of club initiations, frosty football games, and a hectic schedule of committee meetings has turned to memory, he is ready to assume responsibility for leading Roosevelt. After all, he is an expert at dancing in the limited space of an open house in the gym, and may have even memorized the words of Roosevelt school songs!

Recalling a jumble of mixers, romantic Christmas dances, grueling exams, and the rewards that made them worthwhile, the senior covers from a bout of senioritis. With mixed emotions of nostalgia and anticipation, he passes through the doors as a student for the last time, and into the world for which Roosevelt has prepared him.

The results of the Krazy Kake contest are anxiously awaited as Colleen Foote guards the winning entry.

A combination of diverse methods and united goals creates for RHS a successful, strong student body

As each sophomore enters the separate world of Roosevelt, he involves himself in certain clubs and activities which make his three years here more than just dreary textbooks and boring classroom lectures. And, although he may not know it, he expands his education at the same time. Put 1600 of these widely varied curriculums together, and it's easy to see why Roosevelt is great.

The unity of mind and spirit that is gained by combining all these students and their experiences serves only to compound the greatness of Roosevelt. Indeed, Roosevelt could not be great without it. But rest assured it does exist, as a single glance at these active individuals will show.

The roots of Roosevelt's greatness can be found in the students themselves. Their varied backgrounds and current interests add greatly to Roosevelt's strength. In the students' diversity lies Roosevelt's greatness.

Leading lady Marilyn Musser reflects the radiance of a star.

Some students exchange greeting and play records in Roosevelt's student-run cafeteria, while others go more seriously about the important business of eating.

while Becky Schumaker looks on.

Hours of practice by the marching band result in the half-time performances Roosevelt is proud of.

The powerful effects of student talent and adaptability for changes keep TRHS vital, current, exciting

Who can explain it?

Who can say what makes Roosevelt great? Everyone who goes here knows it's true, but who can tell exactly why? The fact is no one can, and that's the beauty of it. It takes all 1600 of Roosevelt's students to give a complete answer.

Although the strength of student talent and action is the mainstay of Roosevelt, Rcosevelt's ability to keep pace with a changing environment has also been a major asset. The removal of the dress code, the programs the school sponsored on moratorium days, the memorial for Dr. Martin Luther King, and greater reliance on student opinion in curriculum planning are examples of the methods

Roosevelt has used to keep in step with progress this year. Roosevelt could not be as great as it is today if it had not continually adapted itself to new surroundings throughout its near half-century of existence. Staying current with the times always vital and exciting, has long been one of Roosevelt's stronger virtues. It remains so until this day.

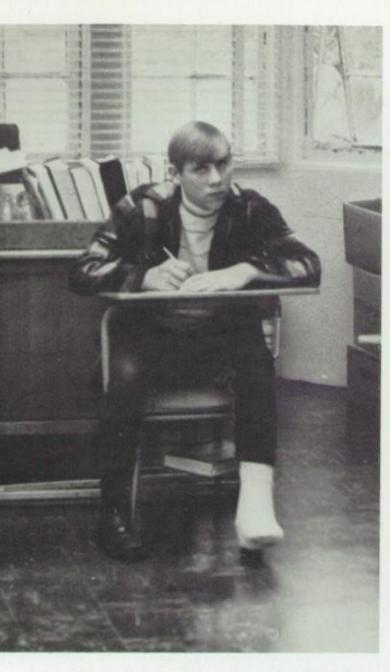

This yearbook represents only the most recent chapter in the continuing story of the Roosevelt tradition. It's been newly updated and revised this year, and is graphically presented in this chronicle of the events that made the school year 1969-1970 a memorable one.

Demonstrating excellent form, senior Taige Thornton jumps high before diving.

A bewildered soph discovers that a broken foot can even affect one's ability to answer exam questions.

The expressive faces of Patty Hoffert and Mike Cornelison reflect the tremendous acting potential they share.

Radiant Homecoming Queen Connie Comfort beams at applauding fellow students as her escort Mary Bell glows with pride.

Academics

A portion of Roosevelt's greatness comes from its broad-based academics program. Offering a strong careers curriculum as well as excellent college preparatory courses, Roosevelt has something to suit nearly everyone's needs.

Courses have been included this year which help to keep Roosevelt current with the times. A modernized sophomore English program and Black History and Data Processing were added to the curriculum. Also planned was the inclusion of more Black literature in all English classes.

All of these qualities in Roosevelt served to advance the excellence of academic training available here.

Mr. Gardner pauses from his time-consuming job to pose for his picture.

New Policy Allows For More Freedom

1970 marks Mr. Bruce Gardner's sixth year at Roosevelt and his third year as principal. Administering school policy took up most of his time, but part of it was set aside for curriculum change.

Mr. Gardner realized that a changing society has already meant greater general student freedom, more independent study, and increased emphasis on science.

He also noted that future change must be constructive. "The object is to better the system, not just to change it," Mr. Gardner stated.

To further this cause, the Faculty-Advisory Committee was organized. A better Roosevelt was the goal of their frequent after-school meetings with the administration and faculty.

Being boys' advisor requires a lot of time and work, as Mr. Barrett demonstrates.

Mrs. Cross takes time to discuss the Roosevelt European trip with senior Julie Isenberg.

Advisors Aid Both RHS and Students

Mr. John Barrett has been a part of Roosevelt for five years now. He taught one and a half years and has served as vice-principal for the rest. His main duty this year was to aid Principal Bruce Gardner in solving administrative problems and thus, to make Roosevelt run smoothly.

His dual role as boys' advisor concerned disciplinary and attendance difficulties. He found his job affected by the increasing responsibility given to students.

Girls' Advisor Velma Cross tried to solve any problems that arose between the students and the faculty. She was also consulted on major Girls' Club activities that were planned.

Mrs. Cross was impressed by the everincreasing independence of Roosevelt students. One prime example of this was that girls were allowed to wear slacks to school for the first time this year. She believes that these new freedoms breed better judgment and a sense of responsibility.

TRHS Students Earn Academic Achievements

Two Roosevelt students and a former student were awarded National Merit scholarships. Seniors Dave Garten and Tom O'Neil attained this high honor. Bart Main, who attended Roosevelt in his junior year, also was among the finalists.

Letters of Commendation were presented to 16 Roosevelt students. These students finished just below the finalists.

To be included in the upper three per cent of the senior class, a student needed a grade point of at least .6948. Valedictorian of the class of 511 was Dave Garten.

Conferring with each other, Mr. Opel and Mr. Walden gain important knowledge which helps them in their jobs.

Students Seek Aid From Counselors

Advising students about their plans for their future and helping them to select the correct subjects were the main jobs of the counselors again this year.

ACT and SAT tests were offered at intervals all year, as well as visits from college representatives, which enabled college-bound juniors and seniors to apply to and to consider various schools.

Students who did not plan to continue their education were given aid in securing jobs or military careers.

All phases of the social science program were intended to give Roosevelt students a better understanding of today's world. Diversity was an important factor in the social science classes, which strove to acquaint students with the problems of society.

By studying history before American government and economics, a more complete picture of the United States was presented to students. World History was intended to give general background knowledge of current world problem.

The Black History course was continued from last year. Mr. James Wadsworth was the teacher and he also taught similar classes at Hoover High School.

Students who had previously studied Economics were eligible for an advanced course. It included a more in depth study of economic trends.

A junior independent study class was a new addition to the curriculum. Participants studied American History by doing research projects and having occasional classes. Independent Study Economics and Government was used for the second year.

English Program Revision Begins With Sophomores.

An entirely new sophomore English program was instituted at Roosevelt this year. Stressing individualized instruction, it enabled students to develop a better technique in such areas as writing, speaking, and listening. Tracking was eliminated, and the responsibility of selecting the level of work and area of study was placed upon the student. The five teachers who participated in the program worked together in teaching and in evaluating students.

The curriculum for the junior and senior English classes remained the same, with juniors studying American Literature and seniors learning about the background of English Literature.

A new course, Contemporary Literature, was available to seniors this year. Only modern literature was studied, the objective being to relate it to the current problems of society.

Roosevelt's debate team was composed of members of the Forensics class, who studied the principles of debate. Forensics students also worked on oratorical speeches, and many of them spoke to classes about the School Bond Issue.

Speech was offered again this year, and so were three semesters of journalism.

Students Explore The Math World

Just as Donald Duck wandered through "Mathematics-land" in the film classic, many Roosevelt students explored the same world daily in the math classes.

In a curriculum which looked ahead to college requirements, geometry, algebra, and college math were offered this year.

With new textbook in hand, geometry students learned the rules governing space and dimension relationships. Algebra I and II dealt with the mathematical language of symbols and equations.

College math culminated the previous years of study with advanced theories and mechanics.

Math appreciation, analytical geometry, and second-semester data processing rounded out the math world at Roosevelt.

Science Interests Roosevelt Students

Whether the subject was gas laws or frogs' legs, Sir Isaac Newton or Charles Darwin, science interested many Roosevelt students this year.

Biology, physics, and chemistry were offered in a program that stressed both understanding and appreciation.

Basic and advanced biology taught the principles that guide life in plants and animals. Dissecting frogs and making large cell models highlighted the year.

Students enrolled in Physical Science II, a replacement for the previous practical chemistry course, learned about forms of energy. Regular physics students discovered the forces which affect motion.

Better understanding of people and their cultures was the goal of the foreign language curriculum this year.

More visual techniques were used, and emphasis was placed on oral drills and conversation. These oral exercises prepared students for one of the exchange programs that were available.

Three years of German, four years of French and Latin, and five years of Spanish were offered. French led the enrollment, followed by Spanish, German, and Latin.

Fine Arts Classes Encourage Talents

The opportunity for self-expression was offered in many areas again this year throughout the Fine Arts Department.

With the aid of Mr. Roger Anderson, students in drama classes gained experience in acting, directing, and in other facets of the theater.

Mr. Delbert Scheibel added two new vocal music classes. Exploring Music and Theory were available for the first time.

The band, directed by Mr. Robert Bagley, performed at concerts, games, and assemblies. Orchestra highlights included performing at the fall play and the musical.

A goal undertaken by art teachers Mr. George Hans and Mr. Thomas Heideman, was to add diversity to the department by adding several new classes.

Business Courses Promote Diversity

Since many students expressed interest in clerical careers, the business world was an integral part of curriculum planning. A wide range of courses from bookkeeping to business law to typing and shorthand were available at Roosevelt.

Valuable experience as salesmen was gained by students in the Distributive Education program. Besides working outside school, this group managed the "Bummer," a bookstore located inside Roosevelt, which sold current books as well as those used in class.

Gym Classes Offer Variety of Activity

If Roosevelt students exuded an air of energy and physical well-being this year, perhaps it was due to their required gym classes.

Students were offered such varied activities as team sports, exercises, and swimming, all for the purpose of good mental and physical health.

Leaders and Sharks helped out in the girls' gym classes by demonstrating techniques and taking attendance, thus making more individual help possible.

Study Hall Students Enjoy New Freedom

Students entering the library this year noticed an innovation, the resource center. All the supplemental reading books and non-print media had been collected and placed in the former library classroom. Materials there covered all the academic subjects and a series of tape recordings about careers.

Juniors and seniors could choose a quiet cafeteria study hall or student center conversation. Sophomores were required to study in the cafeteria.

Office Staff and Nurse Assist TRHS Students

Presenting Scott Wallace with a pass, Mrs. Sweet carries out one part of her job as school nurse.

Both the office staff and the school nurse applied their special skills to give Roosevelt a successful year. One way or another, they came in contact with each of Roosevelt's 1,600 students.

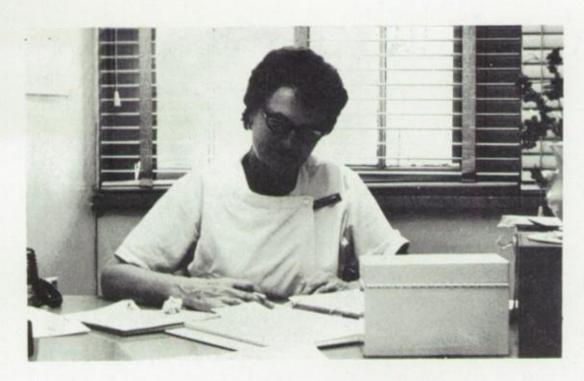

Mrs. Bridget Sweet, school nurse, kept a record of everyone's health, with special attention given to contagious diseases. Her main goal was to promote good health so that students could best benefit from their class instruction.

Keeping track of a high school full of teen-agers was the awesome responsibility of the office staff. Their jobs included maintaining attendance records, figuring grade averages, and typing concert programs.

Student helpers eased their task by taking care of outside phone calls and the school switchboard.

Mrs. Ash, attendance clerk, makes telephone calls while Mrs. Crouthamel pauses from her job as steno-clerk to talk to secretary Mrs. Maertz at her desk.

Serving as head cafeteria lady, Mrs. Fairbank organizes the Roosevelt lunch program.

Cafeteria Ladies and Custodians Aid School

The mechanics or running a school as large as Roosevelt depends heavily on the custodial and cafeteria staffs. Each has their own special duties in making the school operate smoothly.

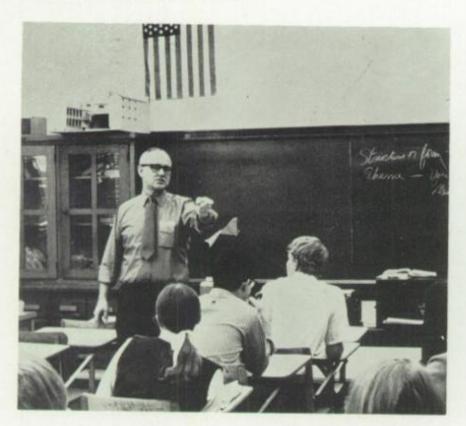

Mr. Bruce Tyler headed the crew of 15 custodians. They often worked long hours to keep the building clean and sanitary—a healthy, warm environment for learning. Their job included reporting any break-ins to both the police and Principal Gardner.

Supervising the kitchen workers was Mrs. Jessie Fairbank. Her staff of 16 members worked from 7 a.m. until 3 p.m. each day, preparing food to satisfy Roosevelt appetites. This included hot lunches for teachers and students in the cafeteria area, and sack lunches in the student center.

Standing at his desk, head custodian, Mr. Tyler, instructs assistant custodian, Mr. Deets, about the work.

Provoking thoughtful discussion, Mr. Freimuth challenges a student's comment.

Morris Beers and many other students benefit from the quiet, academic atmosphere of the library.

Overcome with frustration concerning an assignment, Margaret Voogd buries her head to relieve her anguish while Kathy Shinn consols her.

Precision in styling clothes involves the concentration of Diantha Hall and Miss Baumgartner.

Students Gain Strengthfrom Academics

School was not only for studying math and history and poetry, it also provided guidance in thinking and learning to express oneself.

Not each of the seven hours of a school day was spent in serious study. Students also learned to get along with others and developed their personalities. Every day was a combination of trying experiences, jubilant moments, and meaningful discoveries.

Many of these lessons educated the students as much as any text book. Thus, classes served to strengthen Roosevelt students in their ability to adjust to a changing world.

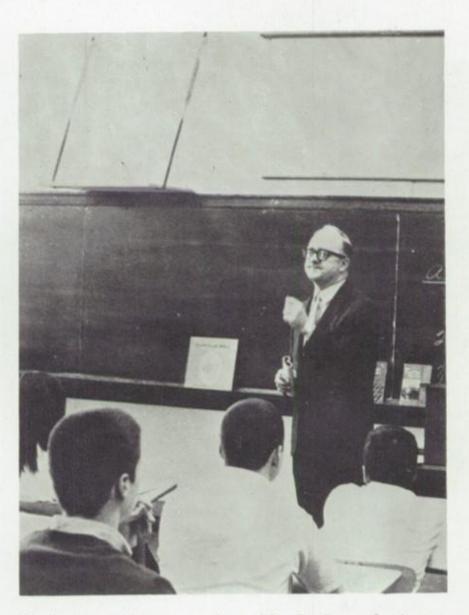

In the early 19th century John Stuart Mill commented, "Men are men before they are lawyers, manufacturers, or physicians, and if you make them capable and sensible men, they will make themselves capable and sensible lawyers and physicians." Teaching men to think, as well as to memorize, helped the students to become aware and responsible individuals.

Working devoutly on a chemistry lab, seniors Debbi Moon and Chuck Davis learn the importance of accuracy and patience.

Supplying enough food for hungry students occupies the cafeteria ladies everyday.

Sophomores listen eagerly as Mr. Craft emphasizes a point in their studies.

STUDENT LIFE

Faces ... individuals ... 1500 students who each in his own way contribute to a growing and changing Roosevelt. Whether through bringing home a debate trophy, marching for peace, holding the lead in a school play, or smashing a city swimming record, each individual leaves his mark on Roosevelt.

1970 was a changing year, one in which traditions threatened to topple and individualism was the trend. As Roosevelt struggled to accept the times, each student found his place. Though the old roaring school spirit may have suffered, a new spirit arose: one to which each person could contribute. Student concern broadened from school problems to pressing national issues, where the voice of youth was heard in the Viet Nam Moratoriums, expressing new political awareness.

Gradually both the administration and the students realized that these personalized interests made a tremendous contribution to Roosevelt. The power of the individual, within or without the four walls of the school building, built a new foundation for Roosevelt, and for the men and women it will educate in the years to come.

Tradition featured at Homecoming'69

Festivities began with the sale of mums by Girls' Club. The board then presented their skit, "It's a Mighty Odin, Charlie Brown!" at the assembly.

Boys' Club sponsored a parade of decorated cars from Roosevelt to Hutchens Stadium. The rally replaced the traditional bonfire, banned by a new city fire ordinance.

Roosevelt trounced East 36-14 that afternoon. As the marching band performed, the pep section released their helium-filled balloons. The "Proud and Worried" entertained at the dance that night.

"Skin of Our Teeth" is unique fall production

A panorama of man's history and asides to the audience combined for one of Roosevelt's most unique productions in Thornton Wilder's The Skin of Our Teeth. Presented November 14 and 15 by a cast of 43, the play featured contemporary dramatic techniques.

The three acts took place in the Ice Age, during the great flood with Noah's arc, and after a war. In each, the Antrobus family, representing mankind, overcame odds and started again toward a new obstacle.

Playing the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus were Mike Cornelison and Sara Chinn. Four major parts were double-cast. Marilyn Musser and Janet Park played Sabina the maid, and Debbie Liddy and Lisa Trowbridge played Gladys Antrobus. Henry Antrobus was played by Mike Douglass and Morris Beers, and the fortuneteller by Louise Sandler and Patty Hoffert.

Mysterious 'Mousetrap' is February Production

Two murders provided the suspense in Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap," presented February 7 by the drama department.

A cast of eight enacted the tense mystery in the atmosphere of an old British guest house, Monkswell Manor. Seniors Maureen King and Dennis Horrigan played the owners of the inn, Mollie and Giles Ralston.

Christopher Wren, played by Morris Beers, frightens Mrs. Boyle, played by Dierdre Moore, with his whimsy as Major Metcalf looks on.

A scream is the reaction as Mollie discovers Mrs. Boyle murdered.

Morris Beers, as an effeminate architect named Christopher Wren, arrived as the first guest. Soon following were Dierdre Moore as Mrs. Boyle, Bill Eisentraut as Major Metcalf, Lisa Trowbridge as Miss Casewell, and Randy Kardon as fiendish Mr. Paravicini.

The guests and their hosts became suspects in a murder as Sergeant Trotter, played by Mike Cornelison, arrived to investigate. A second murder intensified the drama, as the audience tried to unravel the mystery.

A final attempt at murder revealed the least-likely Sergeant Trotter as the deranged murderer.

Marilyn Musser and Mike Douglass were the winter production's student directors.

"Hello Dolly!" is spectacular spring

"Hello Dolly!", the hit Broadway musical, was presented at Roosevelt May 1 and 2 in its first known non-professional production. The talents and enthusiasm of over 100 students from the drama and music departments combined to make the $4000 musical a success.

Sally Booth played the conniving matchmaker Dolly Levi, and Mike Cornelison was Horace Vandergelder, Dolly's marital target. Vandergelder's clerks, Cornelius and Barnaby, were played by Bill Eisentraut and Mike Douglass. Janet Park, Kathy Libby, Robin Rosenfeld, George Webber, and Dennis Horrigan also held leading roles.

The "Hello Dolly!" cast was elaborately costumed in the style of New York City at the turn of the century. Behind the scenes, students worked extensively on make-up, set-building, and wide-spread publicity. Faculty sponsors were drama coach Roger Anderson, vocal music director Delbert Schiebel, and instrumental director Robert Bagley.

As they promenade down the streets of New York City, Janet Park as Widow Malloy, Bill Eisentraut as Cornelius, Kathy Libby as Minnie Fay, and Mike Douglass as Barnaby render the song "Elegance."

Widow Malloy, played by Janet Park, distracts Horace Vandergelder, played by Mike Cornelison, away from the two clerks hiding in her hat shop.

Old English setting creates Spree mood

Gas lights, a maypole, an old English pub, and booths centering around Robin Hood, Camelot, Romeo and Juliet, and Charles Dickens' era created the mood for "Merry Olde England," the Girls' Club's Spinsters Spree April 4.

After dancing to the music of "The Inner Lite," couples visited Ye Olde Posie Shoppe, the Ascot pogo stick races, Robin Hood's archery, and many other booths in the English tradition.

Greg Mitchell was crowned Man of the Year for his contributions to Roosevelt in athletics and as student council second vice-president. Ted Bowen, Mark Johnson, Charlie Sears, and Pete Lewis were also candidates.

Fall council active in TRHS, national problems

Fall student council saw a shift of emphasis from the traditional jobs of student government to new areas of student concern.

While achieving this gradual change, the council continued to be a valuable source of student-involvement activities. These programs included working for the passage of a school bond issue, constitutional revision, toy projects, open houses, and ADC projects.

Not to be overlooked are the innovations introduced by the fall council's leadership. For the first time, student council had a sophomore orientation assembly. To stimulate thought among the representatives, many meetings were converted to group dynamics sessions.

Most notable, however, were the new areas in which the council dealt. Controversial discussions on issues such as the Vietnam Moratorium, elimination of the dress code, and the role of school spirit held the floor of the council.

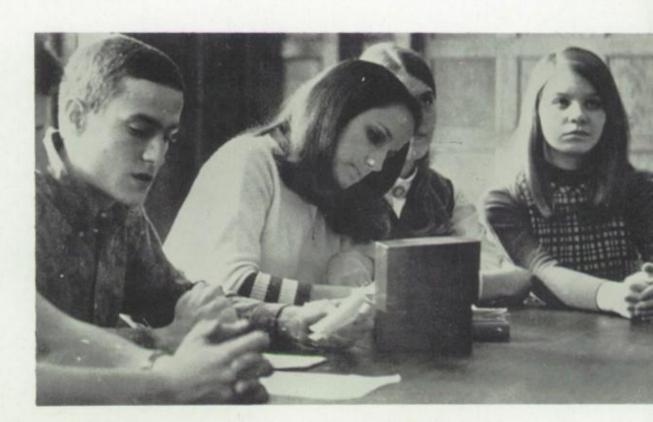

Theodore Roosevelt once stated, "I believe in power; but I believe that responsibility should go with power." Fall student council came to find a great deal of truth in this remark.

New programs are spring council key

Fresh ideas brought the spring student council into the present by reaching out to the student. "Have Questions? Get Answers!", a program designed to allow students a chance to air their views, featured five different early morning programs. Officials from Roosevelt's administration, the central administration, the board of education, the city council, and the Iowa state government were invited to appear as panel members at the open sessions.

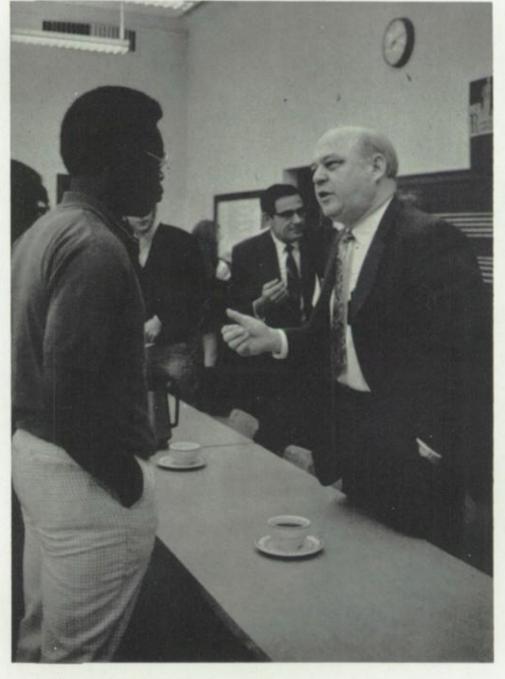

The council passed an amendment that gave voting rights to any student who attended three council meetings, and a room was offered for those who wished a quiet place to study during their lunch period. An informal council meeting was held at the beginning of the semester. After council action, a turn signal was installed on the traffic light at 42nd and Center that benefited Roosevelt drivers.

Evaluation of new ideas was an important phase of committee work. Public relations committee studied the possibilities of open campus study hall, and election committee looked into revision of the finals system. Committees also were responsible for such traditional projects as ADC parties, Fun Night, the All-City Exchange, and Roosevelt's hosting of the District Council Convention.

A Career Day was organized for April 28 by Jane Neumann and Jerry Liebold. Forty outstanding representatives from a wide variety of fields were invited to speak. Student moderators facilitated complete coverage of each career.

Yearbook staff strives for complete coverage

Editor for the 1970 annual, Becky Christian, pauses during a staff meeting.

To accurately capture the feelings and activities of Roosevelt students was a major goal in compiling the 1970 annual.

Editor Becky Christian strove for unity in the Roundup by establishing uniform picture margins and copy blocks, and by selecting clear photographs for the section openers.

Becky encouraged her section editors to work for accuracy in picture identifications and vividness in their writing. She chose a conservative appearance for the annual by employing Bodoni headlines and type.

Photography became of even greater importance to the Roundup. Nine boys and one girl worked under the supervision of picture co-editors Kathy Hein and Linda Peshkin.

Over 100 students in all devoted their time and effort to the Roundup's production.

Roundup newspaper staff strives for total coverage

To cover both Roosevelt activities and national issues pertinent to the students was one goal of the three Roundup staffs this year. The six-page newspaper, compiled by Journalism II students as class work, was sponsored by Mr. Donald Haley.

The fall semester staff published nine issues under the guidance of editor Linda Peshkin. Christy Rehmann headed the first spring staff and a transitional issue shared with the second spring staff, which was led by editor Maureen Hinds.

The students were responsible for all phases of newspaper production, including editorial policy, reporting and writing the news, circulation management, and advertising sales. Third semester journalism students compiled Action magazine after an intensive study of magazine production.

Girls' Club promotes friendship, enthusiasm

Pickle sales, a Mr. Legs Contest, and the Daddy Daughter Dinner entitled "South of de Border" were a few of the many successful fund raising projects the 1969-1970 Roosevelt Girls' Club sponsored to promote school interest and participation.

Traditional projects included the Little Sister Teas, homecoming skit and a mums sale, a canned food drive, Krazy Kake Kontest, a style show, caroling at Christmas time, and the installation of new officers in the spring.

Many girls promoted friendship and service to their community by working on such committees as Blind Ladies, Calvin Manor, or Convalescent Home.

Special activities throughout the year included purchasing a color TV set for the Convalescent Home, hostessing an All-City Picnic in the fall for girls' club members throughout the city, and boosting TRHS school spirit through the sale of ribbons and making weekly tags for the games.

President Kathy Hein, Vice-president Nancy Curnes, Secretary Janet Kremers, and Treasurer Lori Webber, led the Girls' Club board.

Boys' Club earns money, boosts spirit, serves RHS

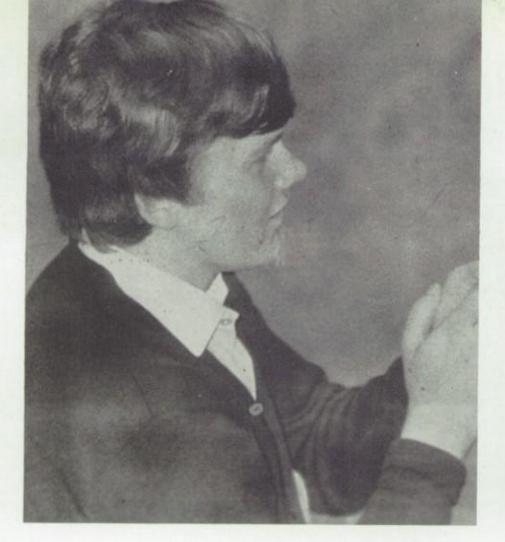

Boys' Club sponsored projects during the year to promote spirit and to raise money for the club. A pep assembly skit was presented for the Valley-Roosevelt football game, and a parade of cars was organized for the Homecoming game.

Money was earned through sales of Rider buttons, and new navy T-shirts emblazened with a white Odin. Boys Club also sponsored the boy cheerleaders, and cleaned and repaired the trophy cases.

Five European students contribute to school life

Five foreign exchange students lived with Roosevelt families this year. Claudia Cellier and Anne LeBigot came from France, Michael Roebbelen from Germany, and T. J. Songedol and Oystein Odegard from Norway. These students adapted to the new culture by participating in student activities and attending classes. Their participation also enriched Roosevelt's understanding of foreign countries.

Cheering by two squads boosts student spirit

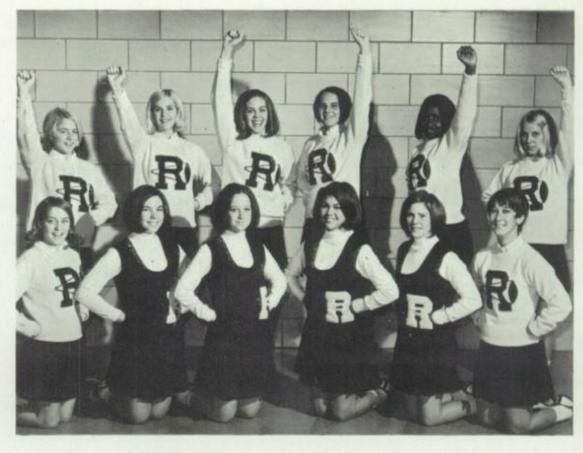

A 12-member cheerleading squad, led by captain Jane Dunning and secretary Debbie Moon, cheered at football and basketball games, and wrestling and swimming meets. The girls also boosted spirit by creating signs for the varsity locker rooms.

The cheerleaders began the year with new uniforms.

Four boys, dressed in letter sweaters and white levis, joined the cheerleading ranks, co-ordinating cheers with the girl squad. They selected Al Neumann to portray the Rider mascot Odin at basketball games.

Pep Club's enthusiasm inspires varsity teams

Strains of "Riders are great!" drifted onto the football field and basketball court from the excited pep section. Organized by Maggie Michaelson and Georgeanne Sexton, the Pep Club once again boosted the teams' morale throughout the year.

Football season saw underclassmen in navy skirts and sweatshirts, and white gloves and blouses. The basketball uniform consisted of navy skirts and gloves, and white blouses. The senior Blue Cadets were navy blazers and skirts, and white turtlenecks and gloves.

Marching band presents football entertainment

Countless hours of practice paid off as the marching band completed another season of football game entertainment. Composed of 90 instrumentalists, eight flag cadets, and 36 Riderettes, the band was led by drum major Steve Haugan and student director Jeff Jones.

The marching band performed four pre-game shows, three half-time shows, and a special combination half-time with the North High band.

The Riderette officers were Wanda Jones, president; Linda Roorda, vice-president; Twyla Stokes, secretary; and Sandy Shay, treasurer. Sue Ewing and Sandy Neal led the flag cadets.

New methods and music tried in vocal department

Five choral groups were organized for class credit and extracurricular activity. Concert Chorus, Mixed Chorus, and Girls' Chorus were the large vocal groups which met during school hours.

Eleven singers made up the Madrigal group, which presented old English ballads and new arrangements of Shakespearean poems. The girls wore new outfits of white blouses and maxi skirts. Madrigal performed at the Des Moines Art Center in May. Chamber Choral worked on swing choir activities, pop tunes, and the staging of their music.

The high point of the vocal music department's year was the spring production, "Hello, Dolly!" in which many were selected for leading and choral roles.

No one participated in All-State Chorus tryouts this year due to schedule conflicts. Mr. Delbert Schiebel, director, leads the Girls' Chorus in a Christmas carol.

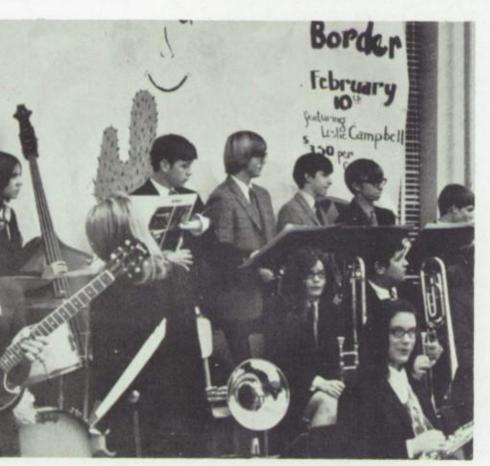

Experimentation in new types of vocal performance was tried at the Christmas assembly. Shari Montinguise and Vicki Warren present their interpretation of "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."

Mr. Robert Bagley, instrumental music director, leads the orchestra in "The St. Lawrence Overture," performed before the play "The Mousetrap."

Instrumentalists perform at many RHS occasions

After football season, the marching band became the concert band. This group and the orchestra each performed in two formal concerts. The orchestra entertained before drama productions and in "Hello Dolly!"

A 40-member pep band played at assemblies and home metro basketball games. A stage band, consisting of 20 musicians, was organized as an extracurricular activity. This group played at the winter concert January 15, the Daddy-Daughter Dinner, the Kiwanis Club, and the North High clinic.

Three honor groups included Roosevelt's best musicians. Jeff Jones, Ann Mitchell, Roberta Noble, Cathy Canine, and Jannan Hetzel were selected for the All-State Music Festival November 29. The Honor String Orchestra included Jannan Hetzel, Cathy Canine, Pam Havens, Tracy Ingberg, Karl Morison, and Roberta Noble. The Honor Band selected Roosevelt's Andy Hansen, Nancy Allison, Valerie Van Ginkle, Larry Kirkpatrick, Nancy Griffin, Dan Stevenson, Kathy Hetzel, and David Woltz.

Members of the stage band set up for their performance at the Girls' Club's Daddy-Daughter Dinner.

Thespian troupe, Mimes entertain TRHS students

Creativity and dramatic talent were combined by the Thespians and Mimes to present three major dramatic productions, a Christmas skit, and many pantomime engagements.

"The Skin of Our Teeth," "The Mousetrap," and "Hello Dolly!" were the culmination of many hours on and behind the stage for the 50 Thespians. The group also adapted Dr. Seuss' "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" into a skit.

A trip to Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis September 6 was open to all students. A special Thespian meeting early in the year honored movie star Dick Van Dyke as guest.

Thespian officers were Carol Ramsey, president; Mike Cornelison, vice-president; Karen Maycock, secretary; Maureen King, treasurer; and Marilyn Musser, scribe.

The 12 Mimes, led by Master Mime Sara Chinn, performed for the Girls' Club Friendship Teas, the Human Rights Commission, and for other organizations. Lisa Trowbridge and Deirdre Moore argue in a scene from "The Mousetrap" during a rehearsal.

'Look Around' is theme for '69 Shark pageant

Sergio Mendez' song "Look Around provided the theme for the Sharks' 1969 pageant, centered on songs about the weather and emotions. Presented November 5, 6, and 8, the synchronized show experimented with poetry excerpts by Rod McKuen and Gwen Frostie for continuity. Soloist was Marcia Porter.

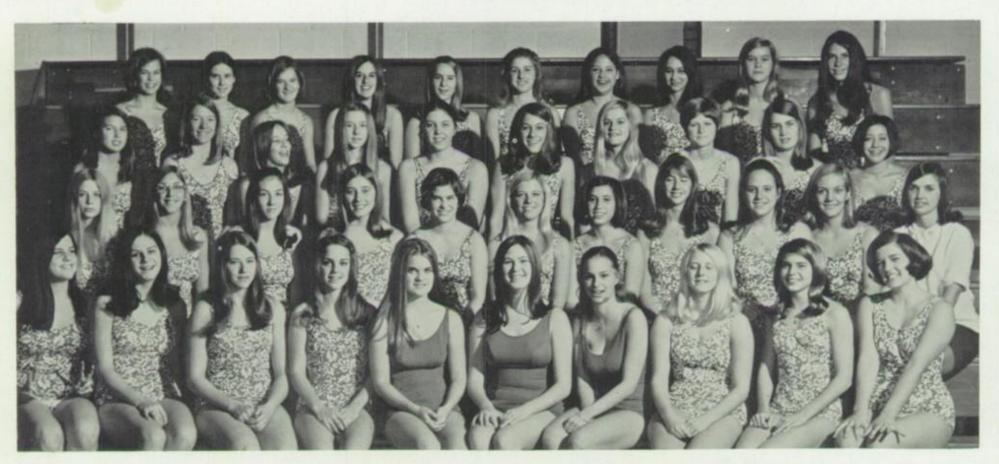

Sharks' Club officers for the fall semester were Nancy Short, president; Sheryl Huffman, vice-president; Cindy Carney, secretary; and Pam Havens, treasurer. # Le aders Club promotes spirit, donates services

Leaders Club, composed of 70 girls, aided gym classes and worked on service projects during the year.

The girls collected canned goods for a needy elderly couple for Thanksgiving, caroled at Wesley Acres, and donated time to the ADC Christmas party. Occasionally locker signs for football or basketball team members were posted by the club to promote spirit.

A club newspaper, "The Weakly Leader," was published to bring unity and better communication to the large club. A new chairman system in gym classes and a demerit chart organized Leaders Club.

Fifty students offer help to faculty

Without 50 some students, the Roosevelt routine would have run a lot less smoothly.

Working in the nurse's counseling, and main offices, on the stage, in the audio-visual center, and in the library, these students gave up their study halls to aid the faculty and administrator.

Their duties ranged from taking phone mesages and sorting books, to co-ordinating lighting effects with Roosevelt's assemblies and drama productions.

Radios and science interest clubs here

Ham radio buffs could participate in either of two clubs this year. The Ham Radio Club, sponsored by Mr. Harry Owen, was composed of licensed operators who held meetings outside of school. The members competed to see how many Midwestern sets they could contact. Their president was John Hansen. Ham Radio Association, sponsored by Mr. Philip Parks, consisted of unlicensed operators, and was led by president Jeff Schwartz.

Math-Science Club, whose faculty sponsor was Mr. Thomas Scott, performed laboratory experiments for members. A telescope was examined, a laser beam constructed, and a sound wave machine built at other meetings. The club's president was Gard Davis.

Tutors, Key Club, Chess Club active

Future Teachers' Club met to broaden understanding of the teaching field. Projects included guiding tours of Salisbury House during the ISEA Convention and working as teacher aids at Hubbell Elementary School. Serving as officers were Ann Mitchell, Phyllis Kallemyn, Charlotte Smith, Sandy Shay, Cheryl Smith, and Julie Isenberg.

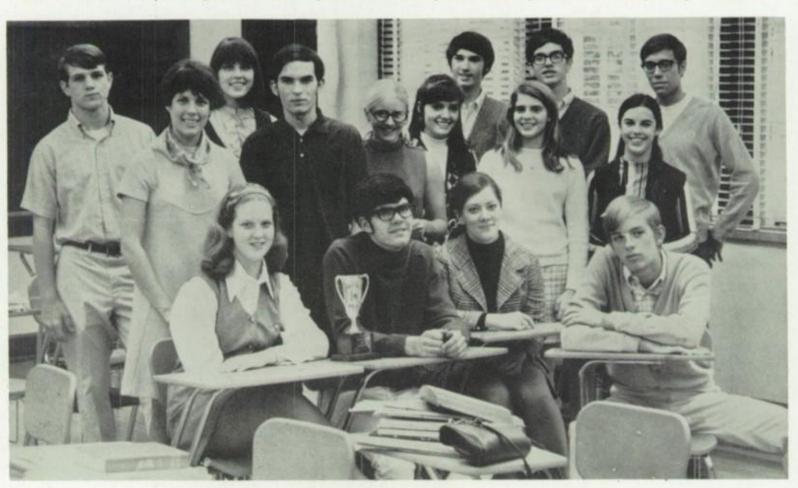

Chess Club sponsored the State High School Tournament and placed first in it this year. Three members returned to compete from last year's four-man team, which placed fourth nationally. The club's officers, president Lee Cranberg, vice-president Rick Turnbull, and treasurer Gary Rogers, expected a high placing at the National Chess Tournament April 3 to 5.

Key Club served the community by working at the Kiwanis Pancake Festival and the Cancer Society, and by ringing bells for the Salvation Army. The twenty members were led by president Mike Holmes, vice-president Craig Campbell, secretary Ken Holmes, and treasurer Jon Sivertsen.

Equestrians, folk singers organize their own clubs

Due to a tragic fire at Robin Hill Stables this year, Roosevelt's Equestrian Club was forced to cancel many of their planned activities. Many of the members' horses were killed in the fire, making it a financial impossibility to present their annual Equestrian Escapades. Instead, the club volunteered to help at the Robin Hill Gratuity Horse Show in June. The club's officers were president Marcia Porter, vice-president Paula Lemke, secretary Cheryl Leichiter, and treasurer Sue Monachino.

Folk Music Club presented a concert March 5 in the Roosevelt auditorium. The members, led by president Amy Groves, vice-president Shirley Lewis, and secretary Nancy Evans, also taped the concert and made a critique of it.

Latin, secretarial work, debate intrigue students

The work done in preparation for debate is equivalent to that done on a masters degree, according to the forensics handbook. The inexperienced 12-member debate team, coached by Mrs. Kay McCollum, brought home a trophy from Iowa City in the novice division. Because other high schools have three to four year programs, Roosevelt's new team was at a disadvantage, but still held its own.

Secretarial Club, headed by president Marcia Danielson, brought in speakers in its field of interest. Field trips included visits to Area XI College and to Bankers Life.

Homemaking, countries, DECA interest students

Roosevelt's distributive education club was composed of 15 students this year. Linda Phipps, president; Katie Van Rees, vice-president; Fred Narcisse, parliamentarian; Gary Anderson, historian; and Korky Van Rees, secretary-treasurer led the DECA chapter. The students organized "The Bummer" bookstore at Roosevelt and a "Swim-In" February 19, which drew 75 pool enthusiasts. The students, who met every Friday, hosted a picnic early in the year for all Des Moines DECA chapters.

International Club, led by president Gard Davis and vice-president Paul Larson, met every two weeks to discuss experiences in foreign countries. Speakers were invited to the informal meetings to lead discussions on the countries with which they were familiar.

Homemaking Club assembled Easter baskets for patients at Blank Hospital, and heard speakers ranging from an interior decorator to a cosmetics salesman. The officers, president Peggy Brownfield, vice-president Karen Maycock, secretary Cheryl Smith, and treasurer Jane Chamberlin won the top honors in the Krazy Kake Kontest.

The students did extensive research on Venezuela and Chad, which they represented at the Model U.N. Current international problems such as Chinese representation, Vietnam, and the emergence of mini-states were discussed by the high school students from around the state.

Thirty-two juniors were selected for the annual United Nations tour which departed March 20 for Washington, D.C. and New York City. The spring vacation tour involved juniors from all over the city.

Life goes on outside of TRHS Building

Student life is by no means confined to within the walls of Roosevelt. Concern for community and national problems and involvement in outside activities drew as many students as did schoolsponsored organizations.

This was the year for student participation in Vietnam moratoriums to protest the war. Concern later turned to ecology—the preservation of the earth by curbin air and water pollution.

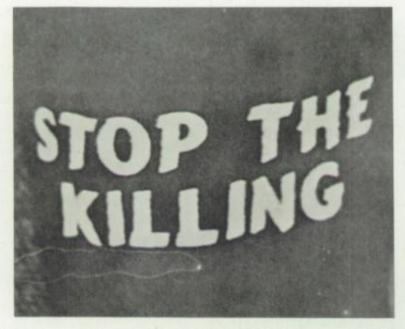

Many students held part time jobs in community businesses. Church fellowship groups and other organizations consumed the time of others.

In the constant search for places to go and things to do, students found the Know-Where, a coffee house in West Des Moines devoted to featuring exceptional entertainment. Others passed the time with basketball and football games, or even by just taking a quiet stroll in the woods. Inventiveness was the key when Roosevelt students searched for activities outside of their school.

SPORTS

1970 was a year when the athletic department followed the school-wide trend of emphasis on individual achievement. Although teamwork, always a Rider asset, contributed to a solid over-all sports record, individual accomplishment was where Roosevelt athletes sparkled. The Roughriders brought national attention to the school in swimming, tennis, and gymnastics. Outstanding athletes, both male and female, developed their physical potential to smash city, state, and national records. The result was a notable athletic department and a stronger Roosevelt.

Riders win 3 and tie 2, finish fourth in Metro

Determination was the password for Roosevelt's 1969 football team. With only three experienced lettermen on the young squad, Head Coach Don Prior directed his team to a 3-3-2 season. The squad placed fourth in the Metropolitan Conference.

Roosevelt opened the season against Valley by scoring early in the second quarter on a nine-yard pass from senior quarterback John Tidrick to Greg Mitchell, senior back. The Roughriders then relied on their tough defense to protect their lead. The team successfully stopped the Valley offense on the Rider three-yard line with only seconds remaining on the clock to win 6-0. Valley has yet to win one game against Roosevelt in their last 16 meetings.

The Roughriders then received their first loss against Lincoln. The Railsplitters capitalized on two Rider fumbles and scored twice. The Riders' only score came on a two-yard run by senior Nile Tannatt, as Roosevelt lost 14-6.

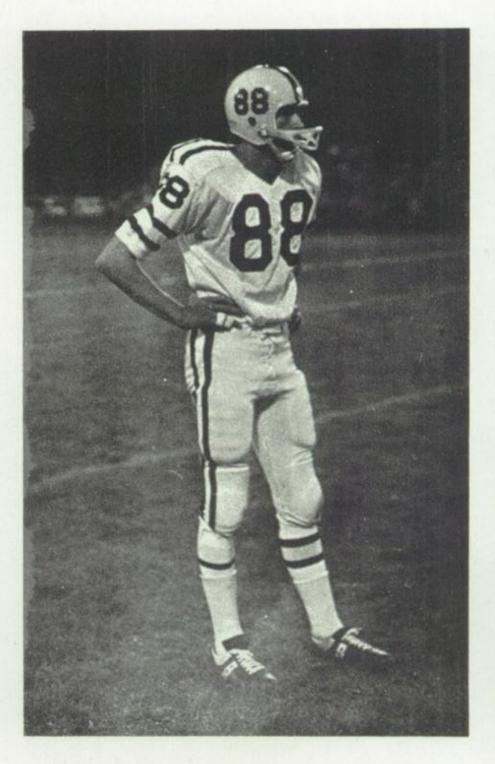

Hoover High, the Roughrider's third foe, edged the Riders 7-6 in a tough game. Roosevelt's score came after Greg Mitchell blocked a Hoover punt to set up a run by Bill Fristo from the two-yard line.

Rider offense moves, sparkles in next games

The Riders' next opponent, North High, was rated 17 in the state, but could manage only a 6-6 tie with the Roughriders as the Polar Bears scored late in the fourth quarter after taking advantage of a Roosevelt fumble. Senior Taige Thornton blocked the decisive extra point kick, however, as the Riders put down North's hopes of ending a 16 year victory famine against the Roughriders.

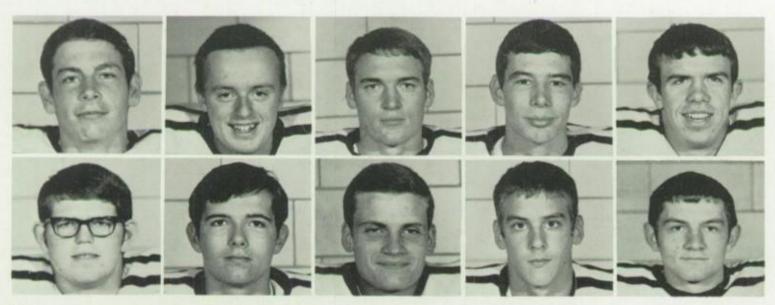

The Rider offense ignited in their next two games. The first, against Tech, saw every member of the Roosevelt team playing at one time or another as the Roughriders held the Engineers scoreless, 30-0, and extended Tech's losing streak to 29 consecutive games. The next meeting, Roosevelt's 1969 Homecoming, put the Roughriders against East and saw the Riders add up their highest score of the year. Bill Fristo personally piled up 244 yards rushing for the Roughriders as Roosevelt won 36-14, their seventh victory in the last nine games against the Scarlet.

Gridders lose to Maroons, end season with a tie

Second-ranked Dowling then defeated the Roughriders 40-0 in a battle that saw the Riders eventually worn down by the Maroon offense. Dowling went on to win the Metropolitan Conference title.

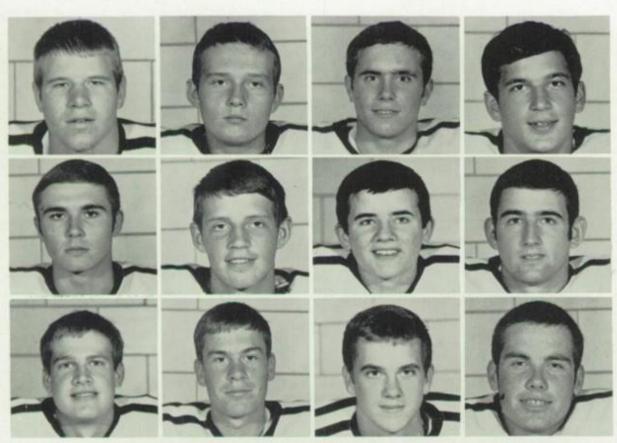

The last game of the season, against Marshalltown, ended in a 28-28 tie as the Bobcats scored with three minutes left to tie the Riders.

The 1969 Roosevelt football team was led by tricaptains Greg Mitchell, Marv Bell, and John Tidrick. Greg also received the honor of being voted the most valuable player after receiving first team All-City honors, and All-State honorable mention. Also receiving first team All-City honors and All-State honorable mention was Chuck Sears.

The Weidemaier Memorial Award for the team's best lineman went to All-City and All-State honorable mention selection Randy Collins. Marv Bell received All-City and All-State honorable mention. John Tidrick, Ted Bowen, and Bill Fristo received All-City honorable mentions.

Little Riders Metro Champs, finish with 6-1 record

Tremendous initiative guided the sophomore football team to a victorious 6-1 season record and captured first place in the Metropolitan Conference for the Little Riders. Displaying both a strong offense and defense, the Riders outscored their opponents 156-49. Head Coach Robert Anderson and assistant coach Joe Blaskovich directed the team's successful 1969 season.

After defeating Valley 20-7, the Riders lost their only game, to Lincoln, by a score of 18-14. The gridders rebounded after this loss to crush all their next opponents. The Little Riders beat Hoover, 18-8; North, 28-0; Tech, 32-0; East, 18-8; and finally Dowling, 26-8.

Among the many outstanding players were J. R. Fredricks, the leading scorer; Dick McDonald, quarterback; Jim Monachino, tackle; and Doug Peterson.

Young harriers produce winning season

CROSS COUNTRY

Bolstering a fine 4-2-1 record in duel meets, the Roosevelt cross country team proved victorious again this year. With only one returning letterman on the squad, and with a team made up of underclassmen, the harriers managed to place fourth in the city meet. The team also placed tenth in the state mile meet.

Coached by Mr. Arden McClain, the varsity squad consisted of juniors Tom Thomas, Curt Johnson, Craig Campbell, Ron Davidson, and Freddie Hayne, with senior Marc DeJong serving as back-up man. Sophomore Tim Hoffert earned a starting place on the team during the two mile season after showing excellent potential.

Successful season sends Four wrestlers to state

A relatively inexperienced wrestling team kept a tradition of winning intact as they achieved a fine 6-3-1 over-all record.

Senior Fred Narcisse (123 pounds), captain of the wrestling team, placed third in the state meet and ended the season with a fine 29-3-1 record.

Other wrestlers who fought their way to the state meet included senior Jim Betts (137 pounds), and juniors Steve Wells (98 pounds) and Bob Long (115 pounds).

Placing in the sectional meet were junior Mike O'Rourke (107 pounds), who won a second place ranking, and senior John McKenzie (145 pounds), who took first place. Winning second place rankings were seniors Mike Feeley (155 pounds), K. J. Urban (165 pounds) and Randy Collins (175 pounds).

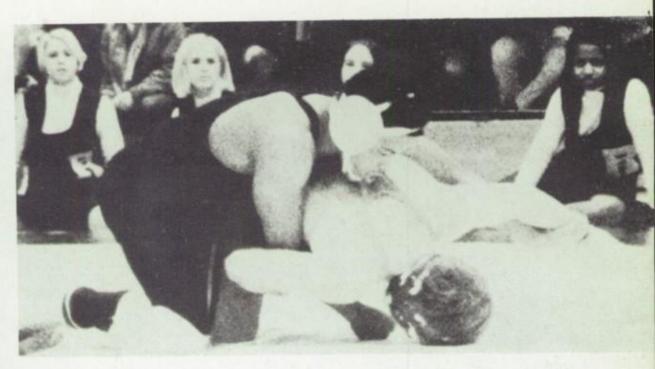

Coaching his seventh season, Mr. John Shaffer, with assistant Mr. Hays Harned, guided his squad to a second place finish in the Metropolitan Conference tournament. City champs in the meet were Bob Long and Jim Betts.

Trackmen gain strength from junior members

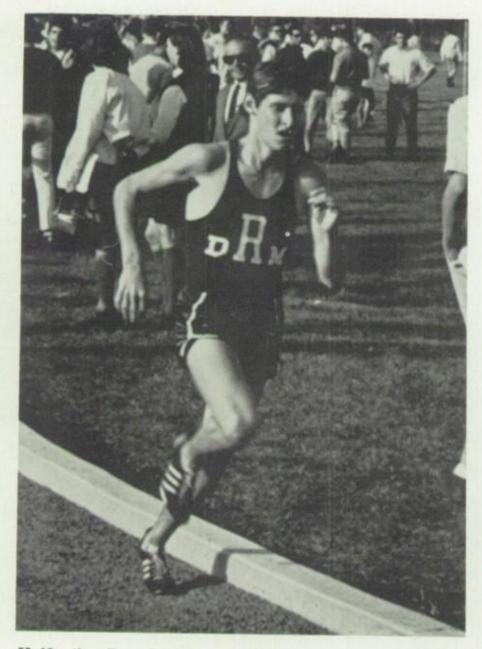

With a team consisting largely of juniors, the 1970 track team heads into its season under the direction of Coach Arden McClain.

In snow-bound conditions, Roosevelt lost its first dual meet of the season to Hoover, the defending city champs.

Tom Thomas, Ron Davidson, Kurt Johnson, and Kevin Cox comprised the two-mile relay team which placed first in the meet. Other middle and distance runners include seniors Crom Campbell, Loren Clayton, and junior Craig Campbell.

In the sprints, lettermen include Steve Dallenbach, Randy Keough, Bill Fristo, and Bob Miller, with sophomore Lewis James showing promise for next season's team.

Rounding out the team, in field events are seniors Marty Spong and Dick Rue in shotput and discus competition. Tom Farr and Ted Raife head up the pole vault. Junior John Bowen, taking an easy first place in the high jump event in the Husky dual, showed promise of being one of the best high jumpers in the city.

Half-miler Ron Davidson strides out to a commanding lead.

A young Rider swimming team, with only five seniors, proved victorious again this season under the supervision of Coach Tom Reed. Co-captains for the team were seniors Mark Johnson, Jim Knox, and Steve Mairet.

The tankers placed sixth in the state swimming meet, won their 13th straight district title, and captured first place in the Metropolitan Conference.

Nine individuals and both Rider relay teams competed in the state meet after winning the district meet, where the Roosevelt swimmers broke three records. Mark Johnson shattered the old diving record, sophomore John Longenecker set a new record in the 400-yard freestyle, and the 400-yard freestyle team put a new record in the books as the tankers accumulated 80 points in the meet.

The swim team's depth enabled the Riders to amass 86 points in the Metropolitan Conference swimming meet, where the team broke two records. Mark Johnson set a new record in diving with 456.85 points and John Longenecker broke the old record in the 400-yard freestyle in a time of 4:12.7.

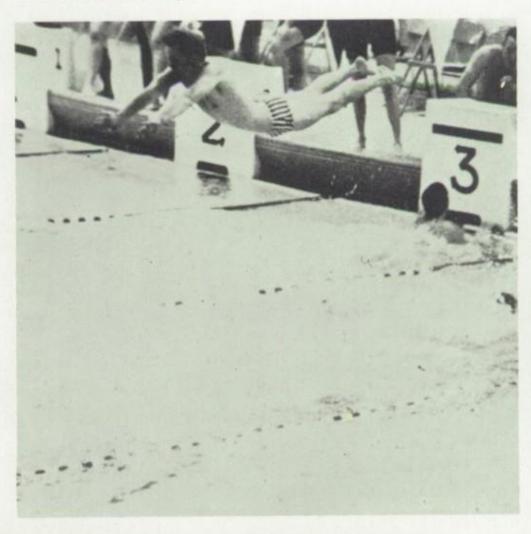

The Pendry Award, for outstanding effort and achievement, was won by Mark Johnson. Jim Knox received the Hickerson Award.

Taking sixth place in the state meet, the Riders had one first place winner in Mark Johnson, who set a new diving record with 475.90 points. Junior Steve Davis placed third in the 100-yard breast stroke.

The 400-yard freestyle relay team of Steve Mairet, Jim Knox, Randy Keough, and Dan Shay achieved sixth place, while the 200-yard medley relay team of Larry Geisinger, Steve Davis, Craig Campbell, and Jim Knox placed 10th.

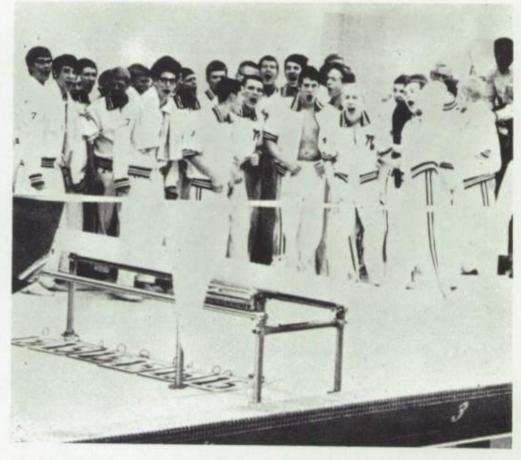

John Longenecker placed ninth in both the 200-yard freestyle and 400-yard freestyle. Junior Dan Shay finished 10th in the 100-yard freestyle and Steve Mairet placed 12th in the 50-yard freestyle.

Cagers have 6-14 season, reach district

Discussing attack plans with his team, Coach Al Comito points out his strategy.

Nile Tannatt lays in a field goal as Larry Hurley comes downcourt to help.

A relatively inexperienced team, coached by Al Comito, produced a 6-14 record and reached district action in post-season playoffs.

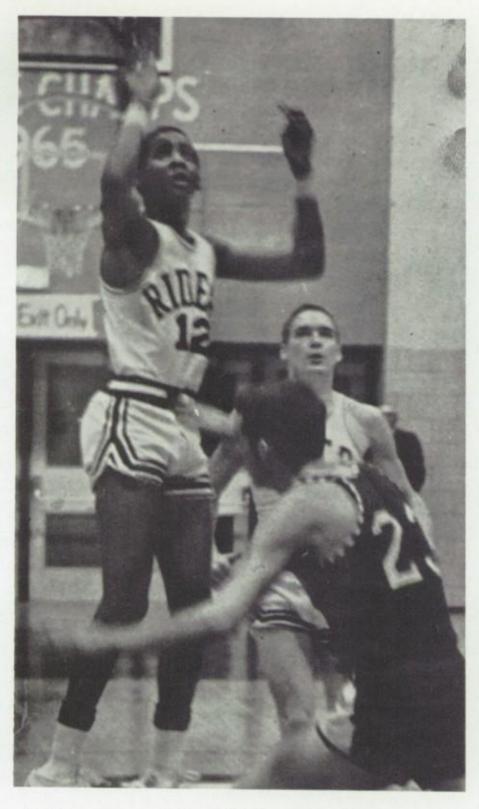

The Riders, despite a lack in size, overcame the disability with speed and quickness.

The team, comprised mostly of seniors, defeated Dowling in the first round of district action, 69-68. The game see-sawed back and fourth with the lead changing hands 9 times and saw the Maroons open up an eight-point lead in the final quarter. Roosevelt grabbed the lead in the final two seconds of the game on a pair of free throws by junior Virgil White.

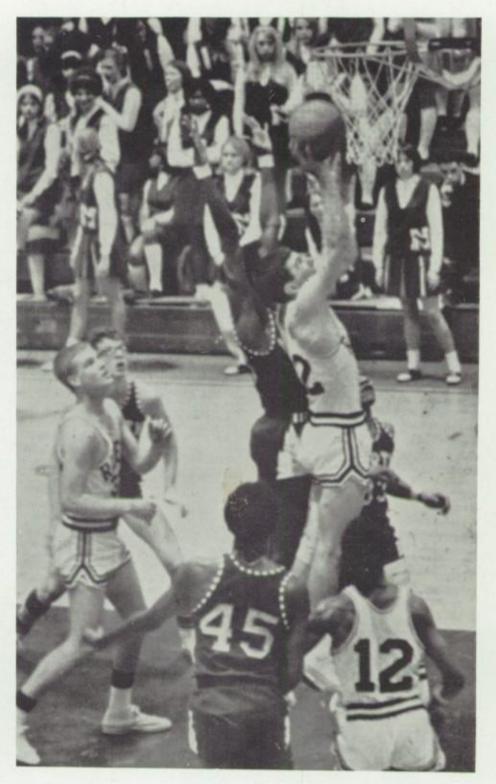

The cagers threat in district ended in a 74-64 loss to Valley. The Riders pulled out to a six-point lead in the final quarter but lost it when three Roosevelt starters fouled out.

Riders receive special awards; Only two lettermen will return

Awarded All-City Honorable Mentions after the season was over were co-captains Nile Tannatt and Greg Mitchell and junior Virgil White.

Senior Ted Bowen, who excelled in tournament play by leading the team in scoring, shared the team's Most Valuable Player award with Nile Tannatt.

The cagers will have only two returning lettermen in Virgil White and Larry Hurley.

Larry Hurley, a transfer student, saw action in the season as a starter and averaged 11 points per game. Virgil White had the team's highest average with 15 points per game.

This was Mr. Comito's 22nd season as varsity basketball coach. In his 22 years, Mr. Comito has built up an enviable record of 343 wins against only 121 losses.

Little Riders second in metro competition

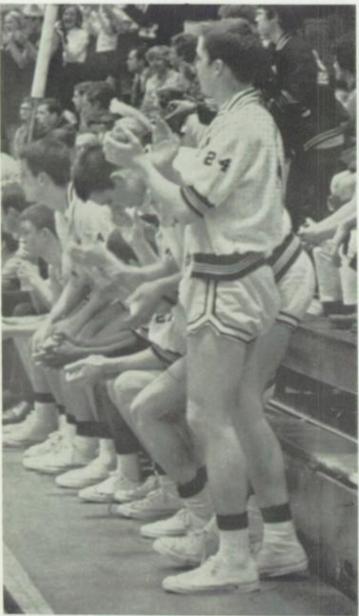

Speed, strength, and depth enabled the sophomores to place second in league play with a 10-4 record in city competition and a 11-7 overall record.

The Little Riders used a balanced attack in their wins with three or more players usually in double figures. Scoring leaders included Fred Young, Jerry Mitchell, Dick McDonald, and Doug Peterson.

Rounding out the squad with hot shooting were Doug Hutchison, and Joe Coppola, both of whom helped the team in rebounding.

Among the many satisfying victories for the Little Riders was the Hoover game, where overcoming a 10-point deficit, the team overtook Hoover and gave the Huskies their first loss of the season.

Clapping and cheering from the bench gives encouragement to fellow teammates, and team members engage in it wholeheartedly.

The girls' tennis team, also defending city champs, mirror the boys' team in that they, too, are comprised mostly by sophomores and juniors.

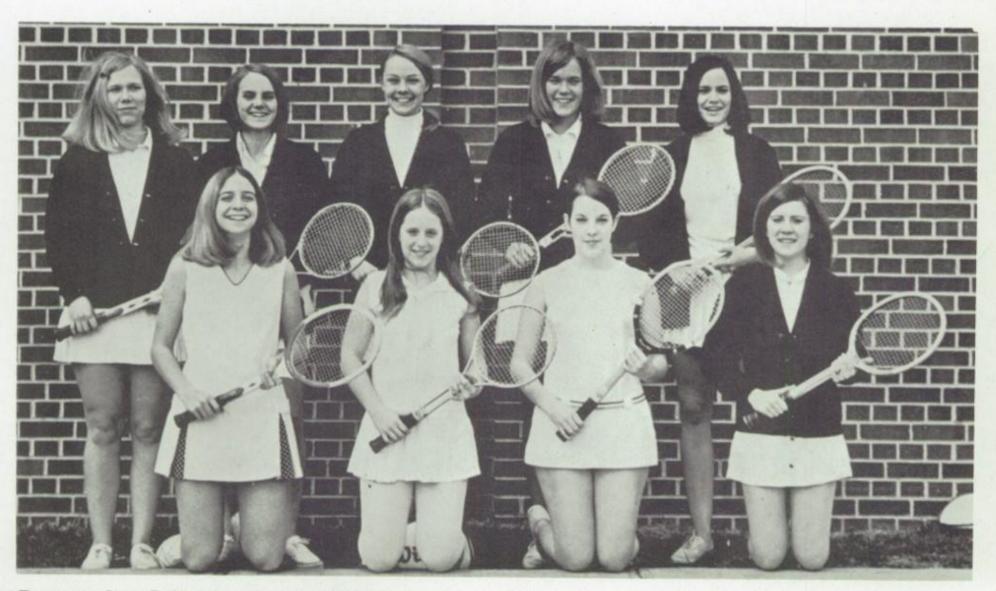

Returning senior lettermen are Christy Gerdes, Kathy Hein, and Kathy Thelen with juniors Bev Buckley, Joan Griffith and Kim Hudson.

With every girl returning from last year's team, and with a new group of sophomores in, the girls' team are favored to take the Metropolitan conference.

In their first dual with Lincoln, the girls won the singles, with top-seeded Bev Buckley leading the way in singles. The girls won every singles match and lost only one doubles, to win 8-1.

Under the coaching by Joe Smith, the girls will have many contenders for the state meet.

Bev Buckley, currently ranked 19th in the nation for 16-and-under singles, took the state singles championship last year as a sophomore.

Boys Golf Squad Strives to Match '69 Record

Members of the 1969 boys golf team left a tough record for this year's team to match. They not only won nine out of ten tourneys, but also snatched first place in sectional, district and metropolitan competitions. The seasoned lettermen went on to grab eighth place in state.

Although six of last year's squad graduated, the 1970 boys team gained its strength from its returning senior lettermen. Coach Clark Munger altered tradition by appointing Roger Stanton team captain. The first junior to hold the position, Roger qualified because of his outstanding golf record in '69.

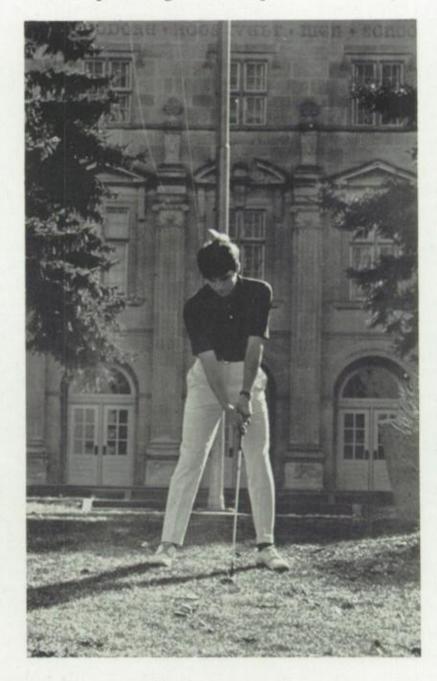

Coach Munger, in his 34th year as golf coach, had every reason to expect a record equalling '69's from his powerful new squad.

Experience is Key Word For '70 Girls Golfers

Experience and skill were keywords for the girls golf squad this spring.

The 1969 squad heaped up an enviable record of five wins and one loss, and also placed 1st in the district tournament.

In '70, Senior letterman Linda Woodburn lent experience to the young team, while juniors Joey Kirkpatrick and Julie Evans, who lettered as sophomores, also added skill to the squad. Bev Hansen, Sue Ewing, Becky Cochran and Sally Willet also played for a second year, while Julie Molleck and Sheri Di Paglia were new members.

With its experience skill, and determination, the 1970 girls golf team promised to live up to the expectations of its followers and its coach, Clark Munger.

Glovemen finish fifth in conference

Last summer, the varsity baseball team compiled a 10-7 overall record, an 8-6 Metropolitan Conference record, and finished fifth in the conference.

Roosevelt began the season with six victories out of the first seven games. This streak was followed by a series of five losses.

The season's highlight, according to Coach Ron Adcock, was the 22-5 victory over East. However, the Riders lost to East, 6-5, in the first round of the sectional play.

Second baseman Tim Miller, a June 1969 graduate was named to the Register and Tribune all-city team. He led the team in hitting with a batting average of .490. Outfielder Chuck Blaskovich, first baseman Grover Hahn, and pitcher Gene Ellefson, 1969 June graduates, were also selected to the second unit of the all-city team.

Returning letterman were John Tidrick, Chuck Sears, Randy Collins, and Greg Mitchell, all seniors.

Good Season For Swim Teams-

The junior varsity swimming team, coached by Mr. Clark Munger, finished second in the Metropolitan Conference held here.

The Riders captured first place in both relays. The team of Dave Krause, Phil Havens, Chuck Becker, and John Eller won the medley relay, and the 400-yd. freestyle relay team of John Eller, Jeff Schwartz, Tom Maher, and Harry Watts placed first.

In their two other meets, the tankers trounced

Valley 64-31 and lost to Cedar Rapids Kennedy 58-37.

The girls' swimming team ending a good season, placed 11th in the state meet held at North, April 11. again this year.

Hoover, last year's champ, reclaimed their title

Divers for the Riders were sophomores Jan Canon, who placed third in district and ninth in the state meet, and Syd Kelley. Both girls showed excellent potential for next year.

UNDERCLASSMEN

To the underclassmen, Roosevelt life presents a new world to be conquered. And as with any frontier, it must be fully explored to find its many inroads. The sophomore year is a perfect time for discovery.

Sophomores see all around them the varied activities that Roosevelt offers. They are interested by everything from student council projects to varsity sports, from play productions to special-interest clubs. But they must choose just one or two to gain anything by them.

As returning juniors, they have found their "thing," and they set out in earnest to do it. Along the way, they encounter enormous challenges and their greater rewards, but it's all part of the game. In the end, they've added to both their personal glory and to Roosevelt's, as well.

Darrin Biskup Andy Berting Jim Blackburn Paul Blackburn

SOPHOMORES ARE CAUGHT UP IN ROOSEVELT SPIRIT

New experiences. That's what Roosevelt meant to its incoming sophomore class this year. Many new and different activities were thrown at the sophomores the instant they entered the doors of Roosevelt. These new students had to adapt themselves to the freedoms and demands of high school—especially Roosevelt.

Although sophomores are excluded from some of the upperclassmen activities, many became involved in school affairs through the Girl's and Boy's Clubs, Leaders, Sharks, Student Council, Drama Club, athletics, and other programs.

Throughout this first year in a high school situation, the sophomores grew to understand Roosevelt and its many traditions. In doing so, they learned to become involved and took the responsibility necessary to move into their junior year.

JUNIORS GROW IN LEADERSHIP

Like all other classes before it, the junior class had the task of keeping the honor and traditions of Roosevelt great. The juniors became involved in all facets of school life and feel they belong here.

Juniors have only one year left at Roosevelt and, as busy and involved as they are, the school will soon come to depend on the junior class.

Underclassmen practice for "HELLO DOLLY!"

Underclassmen Enjoy Student Life

Underclassmen chess players concentrate on developing championship skill.

An amusing note highlights a lecture class for junior Tom Cunningham.

Seniors

The senior year in high school is a rich and wonderful time. Romances, brief and not-so-brief, mix pleasantly with the hectic dash for college acceptance. Studies frequently give way to daydreams.

But the time for these reveries is soon cut short as graduation nears. The challenges and responsibilities of young adulthood become an abrupt reality.

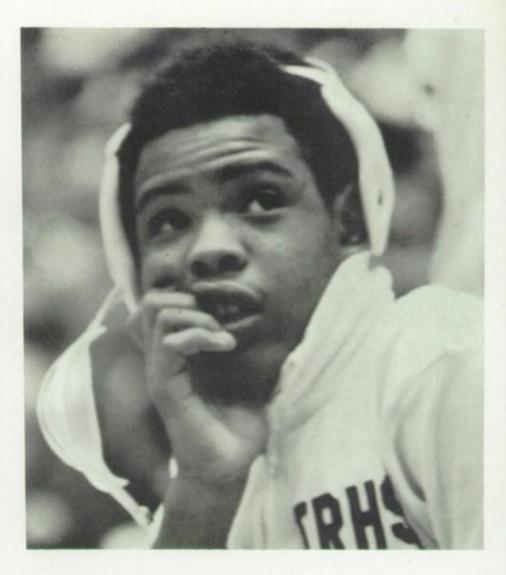

Yet the hours spent in seeking high goals are not wasted, as they mellow to the affectionate memories of each senior.

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted; a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up; a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance; a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to enbrace, and a time to refrain from embracing; a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away; a time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; a time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time for peace.

While Yet There Is Time

The hours slip past; our moments melt into the eternity behind us; Time sweeps us on to a destination from which there is no return . . . While yet there is time look out upon the world, devour it with your eyes, and, if 3 our spirit demands more, add at least one stone to the edifice being built. Fill your lungs with the smell of flowers; let the first cool breath of dawn blow through your hair. Wile yet there is time let us greet the dawn together; While yet there is time, love, and be loved; let our thoughts throw light in dark places; let your lips blossom in a smile. While yet there is time let the hand of a friend feel the warmth of your hand ... How much we have to do, to create, to express! While yet there is time graft a slender bough to a mighty tree. Do not say, "I love everyone" be merciless to your enemies, be tender to your friends. While yet there is time live, labor, but live and labor so that when you are gone everyone will see that where once you were an emptiness yawns.

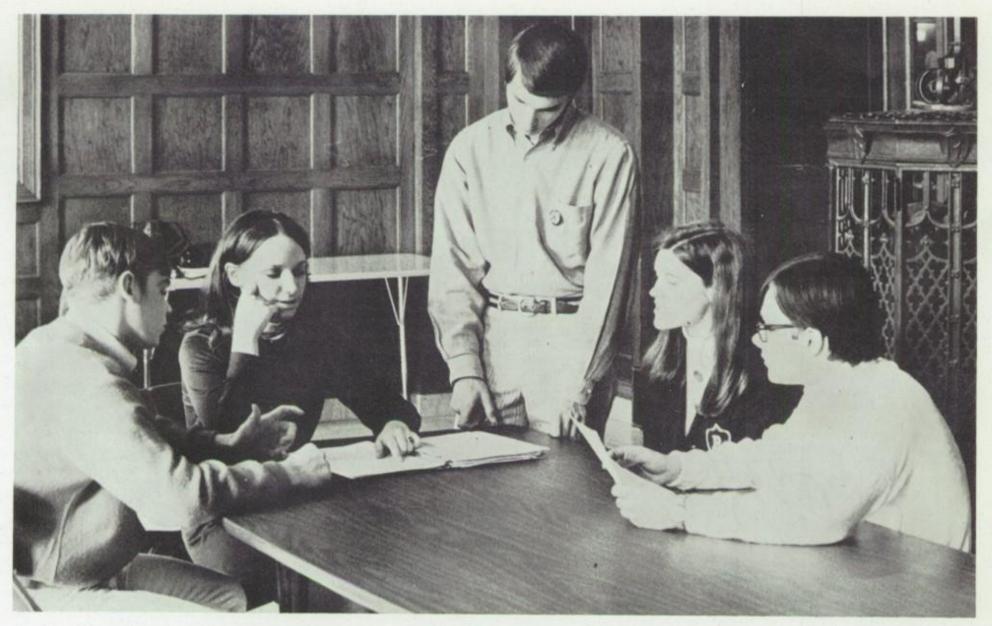

-Rasul Rza

Graduation

Look out, world, here I come never had a crackup never had a hang-up, what a comedian ha ha

I know where I've been but where am I going?
Sometimes I want to lie in bed all day
and think or dream,
but people won't
leave me alone.
They ask what do you want to do, what do you want to be, who are you?
Who knows? Except that I want to be special.

Graduation seemed so far off
now it seems so close
... the last home game
... the last spring fling
wait world—you move too fast
I'll miss the whiffs of library paste and chalk and (even) lunchroom meatloaf.

Yet I am absolutely positive that tomorrow has secrets and promises belonging to me. So mostly, I am filled with hope. adapted from 1969 Scholastic Publication

Even charcoal smudges and a burlap dress can't subdue Carol Ramsey's spirits as she participates in a Girls Club skit.

Advertising

The world of Roosevelt is not limited to what goes on between its walls and on its campus. It's name and reputation have reached all parts of Des Moines and Iowa, and sometimes even the nation.

And just as Roosevelt has influence outside itself, the business and professional world has likewise left its mark on Roosevelt. Much like a wagon wheel with Roosevelt at its hub, the outside world on the rim is firmly attached to Roosevelt through the spokes.

Some of the "spokes" this year included loyal advertising in the school's annual and newspaper. Another important link were the jobs available to Roosevelt students in the city's businesses. This year the city of Des Moines and Roosevelt made valuable contributions to each other.

As part of Younkers firm belief in the young people of today, a program is offered for the Des Moines area schools each year...TEEN BOARD for junior and senior girls, and ADVISORY BOARD for junior and senior boys. These young people, selected to represent their schools, are chosen for leadership qualities, high scholastic standings, personal recommendations from school administrators and evaluation from members of the retiring boards, plus their interest and ability in retail and fashion. They participate in special fashion shows during the year, give talks in their schools and to other groups on good grooming, publish a monthly newsletter and work in various junior departments each Saturday. Younkers salutes the representatives from Roosevelt High School for a job very well done.

THE WORLD GROWING FAST ENOUGH?

It depends. Either population is growing too fast or food production is not growing fast enough. World population may double in 33 years. Does this mean mass starvation? Not if we develop today's agriculture and harness coming breakthroughs in feeds, fertilizers, farming methods, and machinery. Can the world grow food fast enough? John Deere equipment and dealers will help farmers make the answer to this question "yes."

If you've reached a point in life where a career decision must be made, think it over carefully. It could be the most important decision you make in your life. Before you make that decision, consider Equitable of Iowa.

In the past 100 years Equitable of Iowa has grown and expanded to meet the times. We're still growing, faster than ever, and would like you to come and grow with us. We offer all of the modern advantages of working for a large company, group life and health insurance, job security and generous vacations. Yet when you work for us you're more than just an employee, you're part of the Equitable family.

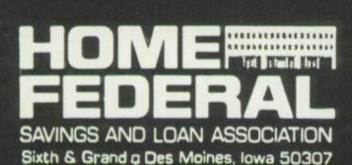

than just an employee, you're part of the Equitable family. The life insurance industry is an American giant and one of the most vital industries in the nation's economy. Its work is essential to millions of Americans and their families. Equitable of Iowa has over $2½ billion of life insurance in force making it one of the major life companies.

The work of Equitable of Iowa involves many kinds of jobs requiring many kinds of qualifications. Advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. If Equitable of Iowa sounds interesting to you stop into our personnel office, 1105 Equitable Building. Ask for Pat Bush. She'll be glad to discuss career possibilities with you. After she does you may well decide to grow with us . . . at Equitable of Iowa.

To Roosevelt, with love

While man's landing on the moon marked a giant leap for civilization on a worldwide basis, achievements and changes at Roosevelt brought about the same caliber of progress on a tiny scale.

The spirit of progress and change has always kept Roosevelt in tune with the times while tradition, too has been an asset. The tradition lies not in antiquated attitudes and outdated customs, but instead in the students, who have consistently upheld a history of excellence.

The individual friendships, the accomplishments, the failures and the hopes of each student provide a rich crop of memories against the background of the school's growth. As each class graduates, the school continues to progress, for every student leaves a part of himself behind—to Roosevelt, with love.

The costume room, despite its clutter provides a haven for sophomore Thespians to hold lively discussions.
